

Are you the one I've been waiting for _ Nick Cave and The Bad Seeds

Bm

[Verse 1]

Bm

I've felt you coming, girl, as you drew near

G

I knew you'd find me, cause I longed you here

G

Are you my destiny? Is this how you'll appear

Wrapped in a coat with tears in your eyes?

A

Well, take that coat, babe, and throw it on the floor

Are you the one that I've been waiting for?

[Verse 2]

Bm

As you've been moving surely toward me

G

My soul has comforted and assured me

G

That in time my heart it will reward me

And that all will be revealed

A

So I've sat and I've watched an ice-age thaw

Are you the one that I've ben waiting for?

[Verse 3]

Bm

Out of sorrow entire worlds have been built

Out of longing great wonders have been willed

They're only little tears, darling, let them spill

And lay your head upon my shoulder

A

Outside my window the world has gone to war

Are you the one that I've been waiting for?

[Bridge]

Oh, we will know, won't we?

The stars will explode in the sky

Oh, but they don't, do they?

Stars have their moments and then they die

[Verse 4]

Bm

There's a man who spoke wonders, though I've never met him

He said "He who seeks finds

And who knocks will be let in"

I think of you in motion

And just how close you are getting

And how every little thing anticipates you

All down my veins my heart-strings call

Are you the one that I've been waiting for?

Are you the one that I've been waiting for?
