[G] [G]

[G] Sittin' at a tiny table in a ritzy [D] restaurant,
She was starin' at her coffee cup,
He was tryin' to keep his courage up while 'plying [G] booze.

[G] The talk was small when they talked at all
They both [D] knew what they want.
There was no need to talk about it,
They were old enough to scope it out and keep it [G] loose

She said, "[B7] You don't look like my [Em] type
But I guess you'll [C] do." [C]
[G] Third rate romance, [D] low rent rendez-[G]-vous.
He said, "[B7] I'll even tell you that I [Em] love you
If you want me [C] to." [C]
[G] Third rate romance, [D] low rent rendez-[G]-vous.

[G] When they left the bar, they got in his car
And they [D] drove away.
He drove to the Family Inn, She didn't even have to pretend
She didn't know what [G] for.

Then he went to the desk and made his request
While she [D] waited outside.
When he came back with the key, she said give it to me
And I'll unlock the [G] door.

She kept sayin', "[B7] I've never done this kind of [Em] thing
before, have [C] you?" [C]
[G] Third rate romance, [D] low rent rendez-[G] vous.
He said, "[B7] Yes I have, but [Em] only a time or [C] two." [C]
